

The faceted facade consists of solid brickwork, open latticed brickwork and glazed timber screens. The open lattice is a punctured Flemish bond with headers removed for light and air ventilation, also providing solar shading. Solid brickwork is in place where day light and ventilation are not required. This clads the concrete structure and insulated cavity.